Divorce Notice in Pakistan

When an executor (Either the Groom or the Bride, if she has the right mentioned on the nikkahnama) wishes to end their marriage, they can end it by sending a divorce notice to the Union Council (where their marriage was registered) and the recipient (The Bride, or groom, who the divorce is being given to).

Below is the standard format of a divorce deed in Pakistan, or talaq nama in Pakistan. You may see the format below of a talaq nama in Pakistan. Remember that a copy goes to the Union Council where the marriage was registered, as well as to the Husband/Wife that is the who the divorce is going to.

For simplicity, the person issuing the divorce will be mentioned as the “Executor” and will be in red and the person receiving the divorce will be mentioned as the “recipient” and will be in blue. IF there is a prenuptial agreement in place, then attach a copy of this also. Customized features will be highlighted in green.
